Stay In Touch With CU

Electronic technology continues to impact our lives on a daily basis. Text messaging, e-mails and tweets are just a few of the ways to stay in touch with family and friends. Add in blogs and everyone has an outlet for sharing thoughts and opinions with others.

A recent addition to the electronic communication information mix is Nixle. Nixle is a free community information service that provides timely, newsworthy updates in a variety of formats. City Utilities, the City of Springfield, and Greene County have teamed up to utilize the functionality of Nixle for distributing community-minded information in a timely manner.

Samplings of the types of information that may be distributed include:

- Health and safety alerts
- Emergency information
- Severe weather and traffic advisories
- Major utility outages or service disruptions

Nixle can also deliver targeted messages for specific neighborhoods and geographical areas.

You control the information you receive and how you want it delivered—text message, e-mail, or website. Rest assured, you will not receive advertising to purchase products or “junk mail,” and your contact information will not be sold or distributed to any agencies or organizations.

Thank You For Helping Your Neighbors In Need

Year after year Project SHARE has helped the elderly and those meeting financial assistance eligibility requirements with their winter heating bills. The funding assistance, administered by OACAC, allows these families to pay their bills regularly and live independently in their own homes.

Please help your less fortunate neighbors keep their homes warm by making a tax-deductible donation to Project SHARE. All funds are used locally. Making a donation is easy. Check the appropriate box and return with your next payment or sign up at cityutilities.net.

Contributions may also be made directly to OACAC. For additional information about donating to this program, or to request assistance for your family, contact OACAC at 864-3460.
